THE TIGER

Dear Students and Faculty:

Call it what you may--album, scrap book, or just another annual. We call it the "1939 Tiger" and hope you like it.

It has been our aim to change the style and make-up of this book--and yet retain the clear and interesting presentation of events of our past annuals.

In it we picture the organizations and groups you have formed, the activities you have entered, and perchance, some of the unposed incidents in which you have figured and will never forget.

We enjoyed watching our project grow from a crude dummy to the finished product, in spite of the engraver's deadlines and printer's dates which we dreaded so much.

Now it is your turn, and we sincerely wish you as much pleasure in scanning its contents as we had in assembling and presenting them to you.

Bold? Well, maybe. But you have to be a little bold to survive a job on the Tiger staff. At any rate, we came, we saw, and we edited this book, so now we can breathe a hearty sigh of relief as we put away our typewriters, paste pots and study hall excuses . . . and say to you, "Well, here it is!"

THEIR WORKS EXPOSE

Autumn . . .

As our reluctant feet turn in the direction of school once again, we find ourselves plunged in our various fall activities . . . football . . . tennis . . . the Halloween Party . . . Junior Play . . . Gridiron Hop, and many others. Always enjoyable is the fall season.

Winter . . .

An atmosphere of gaiety prevails as we swing into winter . . . basketball begins with a few successful games . . . although we lose a close one to the returning alumni . . . a very welcome Christmas vacation is ushered in by snow and frost . . . the Jones family play series become quite the thing . . . and, of course, the ever-popular semester exams.

Spring . . .

Spring . . . the best season of them all . . . studies are a little neglected as a young man's fancies turn to lighter things . . . true even here at E. H. S. The boys burn up the turf and courts as tennis and track begin . . . potential Romeos strut their stuff in the Senior Play . . . and then the greatly anticipated Junior-Senior prom . . . climaxing a joyful year . . . the grads, as the pride and joy of the school, leave proudly with diplomas in hand.

Board of Education

The power behind the throne . . . the ones who tell us the do's and don't's, the why's and wherefore's of the goings-on here in school. . . . Yes, the members of the Board of Education help to guide us over obstacles, they see that the campus and buildings are kept in good order, and put forth their most earnest efforts to see that our facilities for learning are the best. We are indeed grateful to them for the many opportunities they provide, and hope our school will continue its up-hill climb.

Superintendent

Mr. Alexander . . . well-liked by all, sunny side up . . . a leader in every way, and always ready to lend a hand in any difficulty. Well known for his friendly smile . . . the big brother of this "family" of ours.

Principal

Mr. Blodgett . . . his job includes everything from seeing the Frosh get their programs straightened out to helping Seniors watch their credits . . . always patient and reasonable . . . recognized as an authority on athletics . . . a well-liked head of our faculty.

Assistant Principal

Assistant to Mr. Blodgett . . . Mr. Love . . . also Dean of Boys . . . he takes care of the boys' problems here in school . . . respected and admired by us all. His part in E. H. S. activities is indeed an important one.

CLASS OF 1942

Although it was a little new to us—entering enthusiastically and also possibly a bit awkwardly, we began a joyful year full of events and activities. Joining clubs, trying out for all of the athletics, and gamely taking part in school programs were some of the activities hereunto unheard of by us unsophisticated beginners.

The first few days we'll have to admit we were a little confused—possibly going to the wrong room at the wrong time and having quite a bit of trouble getting to our own classes at the time we were due.

But as the weeks passed, our class, which has the distinction of being the largest if not the most brilliant in school, began to fit more smoothly into the natural running of school life.

We were initiated into the school's social life at the Halloween party and had quite a time. The Junior play was also of great interest to us. We eagerly look forward to the time when, as upperclassmen, we may stage our own plays and lead in the school parties, but until then we are proud just to be a part of the high school and join enthusiastically its organizations and strive to be leaders in scholastic honors.

Racquet-Wielders Set Conference Title as Goal

Tennis—The Tiger netsters show fine promise for the coming spring tournament competition after making a clean sweep of seven fall matches. These matches, although usually only "warm-up" competition for the heavier spring schedule, help to give Coach Love an idea of the merit of his team for the year.

Until the development of Cal Stevens and Jim Leonard into a steady doubles combination and the transfer of Ralph Irvin from Granite, there was little hope for a better than mediocre team this season. Other than these players, aspirants for the squad will include Charles Kane and Charles Godfrey, one and two year lettermen in singles. Likely doubles nominees will be Irvin teaming with either Ray Marks or Allyn Kellerman for one pair with Stevens and Leonard making up the other combination.

Increasing enthusiasm this year warranted plans for more than the usual number of matches and the election of a captain, Charles Godfrey. The squad began earlier workouts in the gym, taking the courts for the first matches late in May, with district and conference tournaments rounding out their schedule late in June.

Clarine Leonard, with Quarterback Bob Kreuiter, enters . . . the selection of the football team to reign over an exciting gridiron year.

Solemnly the entire group take their places on the stage with retiring queen, Katherine Tuxhorn, relinquishing her throne to Clarine . . . the curtain falls—the dance begins as the 1939 football season ends—with excitement and genuine enjoyment prevailing.

1938

The 1938 edition of Tiger gridders reached a peak not duplicated or excelled in the past 12 years. To climax a season marred by but a single defeat, Coach Glenn Smith awarded twenty-one letters. Running off their conference schedule a close second, the team missed an all-time record of eight wins in a season by but two extra points.

Although fourteen lettermen receive diplomas, prospects for next year's squad seem to show that the team will center around six returning linemen. With only one experienced back returning, Coach Smith must pick his ball-carriers from a half-dozen promising Sophomores and Juniors.

Partly due to the loss of Co-Captain Edgar Henke and a line lacking experience, the Bengals got off to a slow start tying Gillespie in their opening engagement. In the second contest, the Tigers dropped their only game of the season while playing host to Belleville, the eventual conference champions. Inability to make the extra point factored in another tie, this time to Alton, their third opponents.

Following these decisions, the return to form of a crippled back field gave them the needed boost to go on a winning streak of six games, halted only by conclusion of their schedule. Included in these victories were contests with traditional rivals, Granite City and Collinsville. A fine defensive line bolstered by the kicking of Edgar Henke and excellent running power by the back field were potent in preventing both of these elevens from scoring.

COACHES

LETTERMEN

Virgil Abel '40 (End)—Squirt could block out opposing tacklers and was also good at handling the opposition's interference . . . as in the Thanksgiving Day game at Granite. He was also a good pass-receiver and should figure greatly in offensive plans for the coming season.

Mike Agles '39 (Center)—Agles did a good job of taking care of the center position when Menoni was injured. A dependable man, Mike saw plenty of action and was usually reliable in stopping plays through center.

Logan Bayer '40 (Guard)—Logan, earning his second letter this year, battled it out with Clint Southard for the guard position. Logan helped to stabilize the line and his blocking factored in holding Tiger opponents to 38 points.

Robert Berry '39 (Tackle)—Bob's chief asset was his defensive ability. He was always reliable in stopping opponents' advances. As a tackle he seldom missed his man.

August Bettman '40 (End)—Augie was a good pass receiver and came through to make several nice gains via the aerial route. As one of the ends returning for next year, he has an inside track for a regular's job through his experience this season.

George Blume '39 (Tackle)—George had skill and weight which helped him to play effectively at tackle. Although not a first team man, he was often used at the crucial moments.

Captain-elect Melvin Colclasure '40 (Tackle)—Mel was a hard charging tackle and ought to excel his fine record last year in leading the team this fall. He received honorable mention on the All-conference squad for his aggressive tactics both on offense and defense.

HOMECOMING PARADE

The homecoming parade—excited students—floats signifying the defeat of our football foes in the traditional Armistice game with Collinsville—with the regular E. H. S. band and comically costumed tooters making up an Old German Brass aggregation leading the procession. Amused citizens watching the peppy cheering on the Court House lawn and the numerous floats slowly moving up Main Street.

Yeah Team!

Here it comes—led by the band.

All this made up the initial High School Homecoming parade—an undertaking inaugurated with success this year and which should continue to figure in our school's activities, stirring the Orange and Black on to victories similar to the Collinsville contest.

SOPHOMORES

In the fall of '37 everyone said a queer bunch had entered the great "Hall of Learning" (E. H. S.). But we didn't think we were queer; we entered E. H. S. raring to go and to make it a 100 per cent better school. Just between you and me, we were sorry to say but we got some of our "spunk" taken out of us by those ridiculing Seniors and Juniors and Sophomores, too! But after a few parties we showed those upper classmen that we can really "take it" and "give it."

This year we came back with more "spunk" than last, because we knew no one could take it out of us. Why we even came back determined to take the Senior boys' girl friends away from them—and we've almost succeeded, too. We have many football, basketball, and track heroes. Our girls, of course, are the most attractive of any other class, and we help make the honor roll long.

Although we are proud of our Sophomore days, we are patiently waiting for the time, when Seniors, we will be well on the way to success.

JUNIOR PLAY

Well Met by Moonlight

A cast of Juniors presented three fast-moving acts concerning the efforts of one Happy Powell, enacted by James Belshaw, to straighten out the troubles of his brother Paul's radio station with the aid of a lovely secretary. Paul Powell was well interpreted by Henry Sperandio, and his secretary, Pepper Standish, was played excellently by Donna Bergschneider.

Vying with Powell for the rights of radio advertising from the wealthy Mr. Gardner, whose blustering business-like manner was well enacted by John Rishel, was Dick Peters, rival radio station owner.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

Amidst an atmosphere of broken mirrors and black cats, the annual shin-dig of spooks and goblins was held here on Halloween.

The entertainment began with a grand march made up of hundreds of costumed students, the judges finding it difficult to pick out the best of each type for prize honors.

After the committee headed by Mr. Wilson selected winners and presented prizes, unmasking and dancing began. More than one student was fooled by disguises and costumes of both faculty and student body members. However, embarrassing moments were soon forgotten with swing music and refreshments helping to make this gala affair one of the best parties of the year.

PRACTICAL TRAINING

The purpose of the commercial department is to give students an understanding of business problems of today, as well as to develop the skills and knowledge necessary to enter the field of business. Training in general business problems and beginning typewriting is under the able guidance of Miss Davis. Prospective secretaries and typists receive their instructions from Miss Pierson and Miss Goodwin, while Mr. Louderback is on hand to settle the legal and accounting problems.

FOR OFFICE AND HOME

The home economics department, under the supervision of Miss Tendick, offers the subjects of clothing, foods, and home management to the girls who are interested in this type of work. The interest in this department has been greatly increased during the past few years as the students realize the value of these practical subjects. This department is also responsible for the noon lunch which is prepared and served by some of the students for those teachers and pupils who remain at school at noon hour.

EXPERIMENTATION

This year the science department has added a course in general science for Freshmen; the purpose of the course is to show how various branches of science are connected and how they apply to every-day living. The other courses in science, such as biology, chemistry, and physics, are related, and, while they are taught as separate courses, show such relationship.

We live in an age of scientific achievement, with scientific discoveries and inventions both simplifying and complicating; the study of science is to enable the student to understand the world about him.

AROUND THE WORLD

Study implies development within a certain area. In sociology the student looks objectively at society, and can see himself there, too. Civics gives him an impression of democracy. Geography relates him with the dust to which he shall return. And history, the "seamless web" embodying all, ages him without unsightly wrinkles.

Fortunately, the pace of time prevents us, the teachers of the social studies, from witnessing a completion of any of these processes. Yet, within this area of development, the student has received experience as he matured from which he can draw as the process continues.

JUNIORS

Junior Class History in Colors

Green! Of course we were green. About as green as most Freshmen, I guess. And red? Yes, I'll admit, we probably blushed a lot, when snooty upper-classmen razzed us, or happened to know too much about our occasional dates. And as for blue—yes, I guess even Freshies get blue about the time semester exams roll around. But at least we weren't yellow! We fitted ourselves right into the studies and social life of our dear Alma Mater. Why, we even learned "Loyalty."

But when September rolled around again, and we came back to school as mighty Sophomores, everything was rosy. Nothing could make us purple with rage then, because it was our turn to razz the new Freshies. Now there was a vivid shade of green if I ever saw one!

But time marched on, and we remarked "My, how tempus is fugiting," when we once more entered the portals of our beloved high school as Juniors. This year we certainly didn't allow any rust in our wheels of progress! And for cheerfulness and ready wit—it's impossible to catch us in a black mood.

Yes sir! The cream of the crop—that's us! And when we graduate next year, our classmates will remark—"There goes a fine class. When they started something, they really did it up brown!"

BASKETBALL SEASON

The Tiger basketeers made an impressive record this year, finishing third in the Southwestern Conference and going as far as the finals in the Sectional Tournament.

The local quintet reached a peak for the Sectional Tournament after closing their Conference season with three successive victories. After subduing a hard-fighting Sorento team in the first round of play, the team entered the Sectional semi-finals, rated the underdogs against Granite City. In one of their finest showings of the year the Bengals came through to defeat the Happy Warrior team that had won over them twice previously. In the finals Edwardsville lost to Wood River, 40-21.

This gave the Tigers the right to enter the Regional Tournament, which was held for the first time on the local floor. All of the games were run off smoothly and efficiently by the officials and faculty before capacity crowds. The team could not overcome an aggressive Collinsville quintet, however, and lost their opening engagement here to the Kahoks.

In their twenty games this season, the Bengals won a dozen, including victories over Granite City and Collinsville, the teams which were first and second in the Southwestern Conference.

A fine defensive and offensive balance made this five one that will long be remembered by fans for their excellent showing this season.

LETTERMEN

Captain William Gregor '39—Although eligible for only one semester, Willie helped greatly in starting the team out the first of the year on a winning season. Always a great team man, Willie usually "fed" the ball to his mates, although he was a good shot himself with either hand. As leader of our quintet he did an excellent job of directing tactics during games.

Virgil Abel '40—Squirt had an excellent record this year, placing high among the leaders in Conference scoring and winning a position on the All-conference squad. An elusive dribbler and clever ball-handler, he shared season high scoring honors with Tubby Gregor. Although handicapped by his tendency to foul frequently, Abel led the Conference with his free throw ability.

Albert Gregor '39—Tubby was one of the best two-handed shots ever seen in a Tiger uniform. His ability to add two points to our score when he would get set on either side of the basket was uncanny—but nevertheless very valuable in winning games. His work in the crucial contest with Granite at the Sectional Tournament gave many the impression that he should have been rated even higher than a second team position on the All-conference squad.

Ray Marks '39—The steady playing and confidence Marks displayed during crucial moments made him very important to the team. In one of the pivot posts opposite Abel, Ray helped greatly in making this combination a great scoring factor. Specializing on left-handed pivot shots, Harpo's southpaw tendencies helped to balance the Tiger attack.

Warren Kerckhoff '40—Although not a regular starter, Kirk showed rapid development during this year. One of the best defensive players on the team, his speed enabled him to stop scoring rallies and set up shots for his teammates.

Bill Martin '40—A cool and steady player, Martin has a good shooting eye and used it to advantage on frequent occasions during the season. Although not a member of the first five, his rapid improvement this year should make him one of the starters on next season's squad.

Edgar Henke '39—Although Egi was a good shot, his offensive power was overshadowed by his great defensive ability. Taking rebounds and working the ball in for plays were the best talents which he displayed to make him a regular starter all year. In almost every game, the team's scoring was gauged by the accuracy of Henke's shots. In most cases if he contributed six or seven markers during a contest, the team won—and if he failed to register that many points the Tigers had a poor evening. This is good indication of his value to the team.

Maurice Gregor '41—Tootie stepped into the suit left vacant by his brother Willie at the end of the first semester. Playing consistently good ball, he is a dependable guard and should develop into a fine player in the two more years remaining that he will be eligible. His work in the tournaments showed his ability to do well under pressure.

Art Dees '40—When a cool-headed substitute was needed Dees generally filled the bill. Art battled hard all year for a place as a starter, but his size and weight were a handicap. However, he returns next year and should be a great aid to the team in scoring.

WRESTLING

Although the team lost two outstanding grapplers in Herb Simons and Jim Dippold this year's squad was the best balanced in our mat history. Chalking up its first victories since wrestling became a member of our sport curriculum the team showed definite improvement over last season.

Gerald Grosenhieder, who gained third place in the district matches for the 95-pound class, ought to become really proficient in the sport with three more years of eligibility. Another Freshman, Vernon Turner, showed up well enough to gain his letter in his initial year in competition with the 115 pounders.

Alternating in the 125-pound division, Henry Sperandio and Paul Stafford earned letters, and Wayne Walter and Clint Southard, both Seniors, helped to balance the inexperienced squad. Wayne was entered in the 135-pound class with Clint fighting it out with the 155 pounders. Wilbur Rozum gained his second letter this year as a Senior participating in the 145-pound division.

Many wrestling enthusiasts hope for a higher ranking team next year because of the experience gained by the quintet of grapplers mentioned above and the return of two Junior lettermen in the heavier divisions. They are Captain Logan Bayer in the 165-pound class and Mel Colclasure, heavyweight grappler.

OPERETTA

"The Count and the Co-ed," a very colorful operetta, was presented for our pleasure by the High School Glee Club. It was a combination of humorous and romantic incidents dealing with college life. Snooze, a college lad, presents much humor with the help of Dr. McSpadden, president of Marden College, and his daughter, Dolly, for whom Snooze has a deep affection. Of course after many disagreements with Dr. McSpadden, Snooze finally wins out and as a reward —claims Dolly, and the end foretells a rosy future for all.

Dancers—Evelyn Fisher and Mary Jane Thatcher

Fred Weber—Director Marian Wenger—Accompanist

Loretta Pizzini—Assistant Accompanist

FLUENT SPEECH AT

Since every student is required to take four years of English, the English staff is the largest in E. H. S. Four teachers spend all of their time teaching the subject, and two others have English classes. They are the Misses Isabel Wood, Elsie Sloan, Alice Cheek, Wilma Jones, Vera Adams, and Mr. Lyle Henderson.

The modern tendency is functional in composition—attempting to teach skills and knowledge which will be useful to the student, and toward the development of a desire to read and understand better material in literature.

HOME AND ABROAD

Understanding a nation's ideals, thoughts, and life is most effectively accomplished through study of its language. Since the nations of today's world are all neighbors, this understanding is highly essential.

It has been stated that one never truly appreciates or masters his native language until he has studied another. If this be true, the foreign language department of our school generously offers three opportunities to develop one's linguistic abilities.

Latin, the basis of many modern languages, is taught by Miss Gewe. Students who find no interest in the remote past may select German or French under Miss Adams.

Our school is becoming more language conscious as shown by the increasing enrollment in this department.

BUILDING CHARACTER THROUGH MATHEMATICS

Mathematics has its origin in the dawn of human history. It is the product of many lands and the common possession of all mankind. Being an exact science it means accurate, dependable, and organized knowledge. Problem solving is a concern of everyone of us, since there is hardly a person living whose welfare is not affected by problems which someone must solve.

This year our school reorganized the mathematics curriculum to conform with the more progressive tendencies. No longer are Freshmen required to study Algebra but instead they may choose a more general course called Practical Mathematics. The Sophomores are offered Geometry. In the more advanced courses a whole year of Advanced Algebra is now offered and also a semester each of Solid Geometry and Trigonometry.

KNOWLEDGE-PHYSICAL TRAINING

The physical education department strives for good sportsmanship and wholesome use of leisure time. The different activities that are carried on throughout the year try to interest each type of student. The sports offered were soccer, dancing, basketball, volley ball, tumbling, track, softball, and tennis.

The art department has attempted to provide an opportunity for creative and craft work. The first semester was devoted to lettering, pencil and charcoal work (still life and figure drawing), posters, Christmas cards, and using cosmetics as mediums. Leather tooling, beading, bondoogling, clay modeling, soap carving, and felt work were the crafts that were introduced. Art history, art in the home, and costume designing were also offered the second semester.

BAND

The Edwardsville High School Band, under the direction of Fred Weber, has made rapid progress this year. Those band members didn't set the alarm clock a half hour earlier three days a week for nothing. Promptly at 8 o'clock every Monday, Wednesday and Friday morning, the gym door was locked, and anyone coming to practice after that time was required to get an excuse from the office. Only five tardinesses were allowed each semester. Anyone late more than five times was suspended for the rest of the term. For this reason, we notice that the number of tardy excuses decreased considerably.

The band made some very brilliant performances on the field at the football games last fall. Stepping high to the tune of some familiar march with the drum majors strutting ahead, plumes waving and batons twirling, it created quite a sensation.

Not only have hearts thrilled to the band as a marching unit, but in concert as well. The first public appearance in this formation was a vesper concert on Sunday, January 29. The first formal concert of the year was on Thursday evening, February 23, and was well attended.

It hasn't been, however, all work and no play for the members. Weiner roasts and scavenger hunts have played a part in their program also, as well as a party on March 18, at which they entertained the members of the Alton High School Band. These little entertainments have served to create a friendly spirit among the members as well as an incentive to work harder.

Fred Weber, Band Director.

Mary Jane Mottar, Drum Major.

Band Director

Fred H. Weber is the director of the band and chorus in the Edwardsville High School. In the two years he has been here, he has made remarkable progress with these two organizations, building them from already outstanding groups for which Edwardsville is noted to stronger and better ones. Mr. Weber is not only efficient and gifted as a musical director and teacher, but he has that personality which draws the students to him as a "leaning-post" and a pal. He is the nucleus of the music department.

Aside from his conducting, Mr. Weber has made a great hit in our assemblies with his trumpet playing. We experience a great thrill when he "takes off" on one of the latest song-hits with a flutter and a trill that sends a shiver down our spines.

E. H. S. is hoping for another and even better year with Mr. Weber and his trumpet leading the band and chorus on to greater heights.

Drum Majors

The E. H. S. drum majors, Charles Knauel and Mary Jane Mottar, played a big part in the band's victory on the football field in the fall. By victory we mean the sensation it created with its brilliant performances between halves of the game. Maybe you think those drum majors can't strut! If you didn't see them, you really missed the thrill of your life. With their batons twirling, capes flying, and plumes waving in the frosty air, they were quite a handsome spectacle.

Solos and Ensembles

About twenty members of the High School Band competed in the annual district solo and ensemble contest which was held at Greenfield, Illinois, this spring. Although the path was "tough going" this year, more so than other years, all of our members came out exceptionally well. Following are the ratings:

First place.....Anita Ellsperman, cornet
Bill Belshaw, cornet
Jim Leonard, baritone

Cornet Trio
Anita Ellsperman
Bill Belshaw
Rae Theuer

Sax Trio
Ruth Drew
Marvin Christman
Evie West

Clarinet Quartet
Virginia Lee
Harold Stuteville
Lester Slemer
Margaret Lautner

Horn Quartet
Dorrence Wilkison
Henry Sperandio
Bernice Yehling
Billy Francis

Second place.....Virginia Lee, clarinet
Wilbur Volz, baritone
Bill Heindricks, bass

Woodwind Trio
Geneva Weidner
Mary Wayne
Lorene Soehlke

Third place.....Dorrence Wilkison, french horn
Virginia Norris, piano

Those receiving first ratings at Greenfield then went on to the State Solo Contest at Centralia, Illinois. Edwardsville again came out on top, with four first divisions and two seconds.

Congratulations, kids! We knew you wouldn't let us down.

"Flat Foot Floogie with the Floy Floy - - "

This and other such master pieces could be heard blaring forth from the gym each week on Monday afternoon. Benny Goodman or some celebrated maestro you ask—? No, indeed, just the Tiger Swing Band practicing up on their music making.

Not only did the orchestra perform at assemblies, basketball games, and plays throughout the year, but they also played for several matinee dances which were enjoyed by large numbers of the students and faculty.

The band went "ritzy" this year and blossomed forth in white bush jackets and maroon scarfs which made a snappy combination with their music. So here's to the orchestra, long may it swing at Edwardsville High.

MIXED CHORUS BOYS

This year the Glee Club membership totalled 95, but this number was too large for the Glee Club room 303. Mr. Weber devised a plan by which the number would be more limited and yet none left out. Tryouts were held and all those with acceptable ability were termed the "Advanced Chorus." This chorus met once a week, boys and girls both. On two other days of the week all boys met, and on the remaining two days all girls met. The plan proved to be very satisfactory and efficient.

The first big job of the Glee Club was to present the operetta. The cast and chorus worked very hard and steadily on the operetta, and its presentation on December 15 was received by a very appreciative audience. Yes, "The Count and the Coed" will be long remembered as an outstanding performance.

The officers for the Glee Club were not chosen until late in the season. Harriet Henderson was elected president and Jeanne Wolf the vice-president. Ruth Greenwood was named secretary-treasurer.

The event crowning the season's activities was the Southwestern Music Festival held here on April 6. Glee Clubs from six different towns practiced on selected songs until they became very familiar with the notes and the tune. The chorus as a whole was very lucky to get Mr. Noble Cain to be guest conductor at the festival. As a result of Mr. Weber's hard work and initiative we were able to have the country's most outstanding vocal director.

On April 6, the Glee Clubs of all the guest towns assembled in the High School gym for a day of vocal work. It was a very interesting experience for all those taking part and gathered quite an audience from the teachers and outsiders interested in music. The evening performance attracted quite a crowd, and the 550 voices were very much improved with one day's practice. The musical was different, and was the starting of something that will probably become an annual affair.

The Glee Club organization is one of the most beneficial of extra-curricular activities. It gives a student the chance to find out if he has any talent at all, and gives him a chance to better the singing voice that he does have. It is always good to be familiar with songs and to know their underlying meaning. It is an art that has the power to raise the moral standing of the individual.

I, MARIE AX, leave my page boy hair-do to Lulu Mae Moore.
I, ELSIE BARNETT, leave my enticing grin to D. R. Blodgett.
I, RUTH BARTELS, leave my titian tresses to Vivian Gillig.
I, SHIRLEY BAUGHMAN, leave my membership to every club in school . . . to any Junior who finds school life dull.
I, BILL BELSHAW, leave to organize my own dance orchestra with plenty of jive.
I, ROBERT BERRY, leave to be a great success . . . or something.
I, CARL BEST, leave my record of an explosion per week in physics lab intact.
I, GEORGE BLUME, leave the office of vice-presidency of Whistler's Club to Skinner Gent.
I, ROBERT BRAVE, leave my Caruso voice to Billy Wolf.
I, LOUISE BRISTOW, leave my friendly personality to the head janitor.
I, BERNADINE BURNS, leave to set the world on fire.

SENIORS

On a memorable September day back in 1935 we first turned our footsteps toward the large, mysterious building known as E. H. S., eager to begin our High School careers and yet wondering how in the world they would get along without us back in Junior High. That day began our "Frantic Freshman" year, during which we dutifully did all the things which green Freshies are supposed to do.

Get lost and go to the wrong places? Of course we did, but so did Corrigan and he's doing quite well now. After the first few hectic weeks, we began to take an interest in school activities, both social and athletic, although mostly in the capacity of spectators. Perhaps the upperclassmen were better dancers and knew more about winning friends and influencing teachers, but none of them ever cheered any louder than we Freshies, especially the night the basketball team won the regional championship. Just as we had decided that being Freshmen wasn't so bad, we were startled to find ourselves—Sophomores!

This elevation in rank called for great dignity and so we began walking, not running, to classes, and getting there on time, too. As Sophies, we began taking an active part in school affairs; we also did quite a bit of studying and cogitating. So passed the "Serious Sophomore" year. Then we were—Juniors!

Upperclassmen with not a care in the world! Our Sophie dignity was cast aside and we became "Jovial Juniors." Maybe we did neglect

12 Prominent Students Elected by Senior Class

Leaders of the school . . . tops in their class . . . twelve outstanding Seniors chosen by popular vote for their initiative, leadership, and co-operation in all school activities.

Bob Kreuiter, a fiery quarterback and reliable track man, is president of the Senior class. Head of Cheer Club, Clarine Leonard was chosen Football Queen this year and starred in "The Poor Simp." Ray Marks, football and basketball star of outstanding ability, also found time to take care of the Tiger advertising job. Lois Harrell is president of the Speech Club and an active Hi-Tri member, a true leader in every way. Tiger Editor, captain of the tennis team, Charles Godfrey, is also quite a pioneer on the legitimate stage. Shirley Baughman, French Club prexy, was a dependable worker as Assistant Tiger Editor and has a lot of initiative. Football co-captain and a valuable lineman, Howard Rogers, also gained honors as Science Club president. Jeanne Wolf, president of the Latin Club, was a hard working assistant sales manager of the Tiger and treasurer of the Girls' Council. Also co-captain of the football team was Edgar Henke, who received All-State recognition for outstanding gridiron ability and gained four letters in basketball. Katharine Tuxhorn, well-known Football Queen '37, was art editor of the Tiger and president of the Girls' Council. Sparkplug of the basketball team was its captain—Willie Gregor, who also was a valuable back on the football field. Ruth Greenwood is president of the G. A. A. and an actress par-excellent, as shown in both the Junior and Senior plays.

These students are the ones who have done a great deal to help make our school so successful in all activities. They have put forth their greatest efforts in all their doings, being willing to work, and anxious to co-operate at all times. They deserve praise from the rest of the student body, and the faculty, and will long be remembered for their leadership at E. H. S.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUETS

The Junior-Senior banquet and prom of 1938 was a great success. The gym was decorated beautifully with a Hawaiian motif. It was the first dance of the year we had really to "dress up" and everyone seemed to enjoy it. First we had real Hawaiian food—according to the menu—and then a short program. Afterwards we danced to the music of Boots Wilhawk and his orchestra until ????? Students and faculty voted it one of the best banquets ever held at E. H. S.

The New York World's Fair was the motif of the Junior-Senior banquet and prom of 1939. The decorations were unusual as well as very attractive. The flower of E. H. S., in its very best bib and tucker, sat down to a sumptuous repast and was entertained afterward by an interesting program of speeches and songs. Immediately following, we jitterbugged, rug-cut, and otherwise danced to the music of Boots Wilhawk and his jam boys. Everyone agreed that the Junior Class had really out-done itself in giving everybody a "swell" time.

TRACK

The Tigers opened the spring season with a triangular meet at Wood River. Finishing second to East St. Louis, they were successful in nosing out the host team 28-21. The Bengals played host to Belleville in their second meet, but lost by a close margin. The squad then journeyed to Wood River on April 22, and won out. At Collinsville they won 62-60.

Edgar Henke and Gene Wehling, in the dashes, have shown fine form this year. Both are Seniors, having earned letters last season. Underclassmen Percy Davis and Bill Martin also show prospects of "going places" in the coming meets. Percy is a speedy quarter-miler and high jumper and Martin excels in low hurdles and jumps. Although injured in the second match of the season, Bob Kreuiter, a letterman last year, should return to form in time for the Conference meet to be held May 27.

Bob Adamick, a miler, Bob Moore, Bob Livingston, and Warren Kerckhoff, broad jumpers, and Virgil Abel, a pole vaulter, have all turned in outstanding performances thus far in the season.

Coach Smith has high hopes for a rapidly developing Junior team which has won all of its meets so far and has excellent chances of winning their Conference meet.

Here's wishing the squad plenty of luck for the coming Conference and District meets!

TIGER STAFF

It was fun—wasn't it, gang! Harold Lee, punning little penny counter—Shirley Baughman, key pounding literator—Harp Marks, ad man de-luxe, and Fischer, who high-pressured everyone in sight, Kate Tuxhorn, so intent upon efficient organization, and Godfrey, who did all the worrying for the staff. They and many others, including several not holding staff offices, deserve laurels for the work that has been turned out. Miss Wood and Mr. Louderback helped the staff greatly with their useful suggestions and patient co-operation.

Responsible for a large part of our pictures this year was the dependable work of Mr. Blodgett, who found time somehow to take

Freshman-Sophomore Party

Approximately 135 Freshies and Sops turned out for the annual Freshie-Sopis Party Thursday, April 13. For those who got there before 8 o'clock there were arrangements made to play games. Promptly at 8, Dar Stroud began to swing out and immediately the games were deserted in favor of dancing. He played until 11 o'clock. Refreshments consisted of chocolate cake and soda and "cones of plenty." A grand time was had by all, even if some were afraid they would have to walk home.

Oh, what are you doing here?

Aw, now listen—I can explain!

Hi-Yo Silver!

Any news for the super reporter?

Now, Johnny—turn around.

SECOND ROW—

Just a little wider—please.

Mr. Smith tells him how.

Aw—G'wan!

This is art—

Part of the "big, happy family."

Exchanging puns.

It sure doesn't look like Buck Stahlhut.

Ronald Cooper '39 (Guard)—Coop was head man in Coach Smith's choice for guard position—a selection which was easily justified by Cooper's fine showing all year. An expert blocker, he helped to make possible many of the Tiger's long gains.

Frank Ferguson '39 (End)—One of the best pass-catching ends on a team which was well-supplied with candidates for this position, Fergy, although not a regular, did well on several occasions.

William Gregor '39 (Half-back)—Continual hard luck with a knee injury did not seem greatly to hinder Willie's ability as a blocking back and pass-receiver. His sportsmanship and fighting spirit made him very valuable to the team.

Co-Captain Edgar Henke '39 (Half-back)—Egi carried the offensive burden of the team. His passing, kicking, and running were not excelled by any other player in the Southwestern Conference. Egi was unanimously chosen as All-conference halfback and was given recognition on the All-state team—setting a new high for a Tiger player.

Frank Kolesa '40 (Full-back)—Frank is one of the reasons Coach Smith isn't so pessimistic over the Tigers' chances next year. When in the game, he could use his fine football build to advantage and had plenty of power in his running and tackling.

Robert Kreuiter '39 (Quarter-back)—The sparkplug of the Tiger attack, Bob, although lacking a little in weight, was a brainy and fast back—one of the few players unhampered by injury during the season. Replacing him next season will be a tough job.

Fred Luksan '39 (Tackle)—It is said that a football line is as tough as its tackles. Fritz was one of the two tackles who formed a bulwark in the Tiger defense, making it tough on opposing runners. He was best when the going was toughest.

Ray Marks '39 (Half-back)—Harpo was considered a first-string backfield man, until a knee injury forced him to the sidelines in the Belleville game. A dependable pass-receiver and careful tosser, Marks came through often in the pinches.

Leonard Menoni '41 (Center)—Len was bothered all season by a dislocated shoulder. Even with this handicap, his passing from the center post was accurate—and with two years more of playing, much is expected from him if this year's work is a sample.

Wayne Metzger '40 (Guard)—Wayne, although very light, was a hard-smashing lineman. He used his speed and fight to offset his lack of weight. With a few more pounds, he should develop into a fine guard this fall.

Co-Captain Howard Rogers '39 (End)—Bugs, earning his fourth letter this year, was the team's mainstay on defense. His ability to figure out the opponent's next move was uncanny, but very useful. Rogers was an excellent pass-receiver and was given second team honors on the All-conference squad.

Clinton Southard '39 (Guard)—Clinker was switched from a backfield post to the lines, where his blocking made him very valuable to the team. Southard alternated with Bayer amply to take care of one of the guard posts for the year.

Eugene Wehling '39 (Half-back)—Gene was the fastest man on the squad, his speed helping him greatly in end runs. As backfield reserve, he was valuable in working some of the plays which needed a man of his speed to function properly.

our lessons that year, but we certainly did have a wonderful time. New we became really prominent members of the various organizations, and we certainly worked hard to make the Banquet (we called it the "Prom") a success. We were as proud as punc that night. The boys looked elegant in their flannels and we girls didn't look so bad in our formals, either. Then, all too soon, we were—Seniors!

"Sophisticated Seniors?" Well, not exactly. Perhaps we'd better just say "Seasoned Seniors." We've become the leaders of athletic and social affairs. This position is one which every Senior class enjoys and deserves. It is something for you underclassmen to look forward to, and we sincerely hope that you get as much pleasure and satisfaction out of it as we have.

Now that the spring season has come again, we know it will soon be time for us to don our caps and gowns, leaving High School never to return as—Students, but rather as—Alumni.

KID PARTY

February 13th was the date for the annual kid party that's held in the gym. It's the time when all the fair damsels of E. H. S. don hair bows and short dresses and come to spend an evening of frolic and play and later an hour or two of dancing.

And of course there are refreshments. But we do enjoy it and can hardly wait until next year when we can again turn the calendar back and be "just little kids in pigtails and bows."

Senior Play

"The Poor Simp," a three-act comedy, was presented by the Senior Class on April 20 under the capable direction of Miss Elsie J. Sloan.

Simpson Hightower, "The Poor Simp," had slaved ten long years in the office of the Henry Platt Tractor Company, only to be discharged after making a slight error in filing. Henry Platt, the president, gave the rest of the office force two weeks vacation with pay when he foolishly thought that a large contract for tractors with a Russian buyer, Badilovitch, was assured. Toodles, Jimmy Borden, and Celie, part of the office force, feeling sorry for Simp decided to take him back to his old home town, Hightower, New Hampshire, to present him as a "big-shot" from New York. After many complications and the burning of Platt's tractor factory, Simpson Hightower comes out on top as president of the Hightower Tractor Factory located in the remodeled button factory, with Henry Platt as his general manager and Rankin, a former enemy of Platt's and his old cronies', on his business staff. Simp, at last, gives up Tiny, his former love, for Celie and the play ends with crowds cheering and the bands playing, as he had always dreamed.

This and That Around School.

This year we decided to exclude all and any petty gossip from our publication, but after we heard some of the following choice bits, we changed our minds. Well, we set about to write some clever dissertation on school life, or something, but came through with the following ultimate results. Hold Tight!

These Seniors—My! Aren't they a bunch of cut-ups? The Senior fellows date Freshman girls, and the Senior gals also date underclassmen. Anyway, Marge and Skinner have us wondering. But Marge averages a corsage a day from her out-of-school Romeo, who works in a greenhouse. That's a record. What's the matter with Ray Marks? He either can't make up his mind, or changes it pretty often. Can you keep up with this Leonard-Kreuiter affair? We can't. But they say the path of true love never runs smooth, so - - -! Some of our fair Frosh are making quite an impression on upperclassmen, it seems. Kay Kesl and Jackie Ladd, for instance. Judy Kubicek appears to be rather capable of capturing masculine hearts, too. It seems there was quite a time at the Freshman-Sophomore party. Several of our underclassmen were surprised to find their cars in a very critical condition after the party. Of course that gave them an excuse for not getting home so soon.

Have you heard how feminine hearts flutter whenever Ralph Irvin passes by? But it is whispered that his heart flutters for Elizabeth,

Of course this prophecy may sound balmy and all that, but if you know the class of '39, you can easily realize why we predict such a future. Anyway, our guess is that this prophecy will come near being correct, or at least somewhat similar to the future lives of our classmates. They will always remembers the goods times we had at E. H. Latest Dramatic Hits

From the fifth hour dramatics class come cries of laughter and wails of woe. We wondered what went on in there, so one day we went in. Behold! The students had turned producers and actors, and were presenting to the class some very fine plays of the legitimate theater. Looking over a few of the names of the plays, we found some that just seemed to fit certain members of our dear graduating class, also faculty members, to say nothing of numerous underclassmen.

Alice in Wonderland—Miss Alice Cheek.
The Wizard of Oz—Carl Best.
The Rivals—John Mudge and Bobby Burroughs
Romeo and Juliet—Clarine and Bob.
A Comedy of Errors—The Senior Play.
The Piper—Junior Piper.
Three Blind Mice—Cassens, Theuer, and Christman.
The Emperor Jones—Miss Wilma Jones.
Love and How to Cure It—Mary Jane Thatcher.
Of Thee I Sing—Billy Wolf.
Once in a Lifetime—High school daze.
Strange Interlude—Week-ends.
The First Year—Freshmen.
The Fool—(Too many candidates—couldn't decide).
Her Husband's Wife—Leona Smith Kidd.
Three Men on a Horse—Tucker, Lee, and Harp.
The Pure in Heart—Florence Straub.
The Romantic Age—Junior year.
The Artist—Bob Lange.
Bachelor Born—Clinton Faust.
Playboy of the Western World—Allyn Kellerman.
French Without Tears—Marian Wenger.
An Old Fashioned Girl—Shirley Baughman.
Smilin' Through—Elsie Barnett.
Daddy Long-legs—Arlyn Rosenthal.
She Was Only a Farmer's Daughter—Pat Rohrkaste.
Yours Truly, Willie—Gregor.
Meet the Duchess—Katharine Tuxhorn.
Life Begins at 16—The Juniors.
Brother Rat—Bill Rau.
Idiot's Delight—George Cummins.
Susan and God—Sue and Tommy.
Cupid With Spectacles—Mr. Louderback.
A Husband for Breakfast—Dellora Chandler.
The Devil's Disciple—Warren Weeks.
The Romancers—Gib Hall and Lil Marshall.
Come Out of the Kitchen—Miss Francis Tendick.
Such a Charming Young Man—Charles Kane.
Seen But Not Heard—Eleanor Hunt.
It Can't Happen Here—To whistle while you work.
You Can't Take It With You—Squirt at the soda stand.
Once is Enough—Tiger Staff.
Through the Looking Glass—Agnes Foster.
All's Well That Ends Well—Senior year.
A Successful Calamity—Graduation.

WHEN SCHOOL IS DONE

The Door to Friendly Service

Young people who achieve even modest success do so by finding the job they can do best and concentrating their energies upon it. As time passes they develop knowledge and experience and become part of the progress around them.

An early aid is a good banking connection. Opening a Savings account is a start—and you don't have to be making a lot to save a little each week. Kept up regularly, it increases and is a reserve for opportunity or emergency. It establishes respect and confidence and is the best gift to yourself.

This bank invites these accounts. It is interested in its customers, it wants to see them get along and is ready to co-operate with them in every way.

alone. Charlie Kane caused a minor panic in the fifth hour Public Speaking Class, with his dramatic abilities; one day he was the villain, the next day he would be the handsome hero. That election for city officials we had this spring was really the pay-off. The girls practically had it in the bag (Jeanne Wolf for Mayor) until the boys ganged up and elected "Egi."

If some of these youngsters don't stop driving Daddy's Pontiacs around like Barney Oldfield, we don't know what will happen. Take our advice and climb a tree or something near, if you see one coming. Why the sudden passion for Alcatraz hair-cuts? Bill Martin gets the prize, without a doubt. Say, we are wondering how Bill Vogel got that black eye he is sporting, which reminds me, why do Marian Wenger and C. Godfrey call each other "Speed" and "Flash"? Such endearing names, don't you think so? Did you notice what was on the flag pole that lovely April morning—and I don't mean the flag. We believe the mystery of how it got there is as yet unsolved. Of course the faculty news is always interesting, too. What tiny teacher must get the sun in her eyes when she looks up at what certain tall dark gentleman? Three guesses! We are dying to hear about the N. Y. Fair from Miss Jones. And of course, what about these rumors that one of our tall feminine teachers is sporting a "Teke" pin? Have you heard about the new club that was organized this year? It's called the Whistlers' Club and has as its members some of our best whistlers.

Some of our girls have done right well this year in the field of matrimony. Leona Smith has added Kidd to her name. Carlotta Koch and Avanell Wieduwilt are sailing on the placid seas of domesticity, too, so we hear. Ah me! Love is so sweet in the springtime, or is it all year round?

We hold our breaths every time Buck Stahlhut rounds a corner. If his Model A doesn't fall apart before graduation, it just never will. Of course his is really a fine car compared to some of the other little jobs one sees littering up the parking lot. A red and yellow striped T-model driven by Ray Fitzpatrick and Edward Brown, for instance. And then too the new Glen Carbon bus is quite a colorful affair. I believe it is a bright yellow.

Well, I guess this just about winds up the gossip and the school year, so we will say au revoir. Weiner roasts are becoming quite the thing—at least according to some of the Seniors. With Bill Rau's graduation it seems that a certain chem teacher's worries will be over. Rau and fellow conspirator Percy Davis keep the third hour class holding their ears with their latest formulas.
